THURSDAY, APRIL 2, 1855;

THE COMET. - 'As the intelligent editor of the Boston Advertiser has thought it worth while to address a note upon this subject to Professor Pierce, of shall make no apology for republishing it, with such comments as, in the present state of the public nerves, we think it requires. The letter of the distinguished Professor is as follows:

HARVARD COLLEGE, March 24, 1857. My dear sir — What Babinet, who is an excellent popular lecturer; a good physicist, but no geometer or astronomer, may have written about a possible comet or collision with a comet; or what some unknown German may have done of the same kind, in wholly unknown to me. But neither of them posity the German to be of equal scientific position with Babilet, can have predicted in June any such collision; for I am positive there are not the data for such a computation, and Babinet is of too respectable abilities to involve himself in such an absurdity.

The only, matter of prediction, relating to com-

The only matter of prediction, relating to comets, which has recently come under my observation, consists of a series of signal failures committed by the English astronomer Hind, which have been discussed with cutting severity by a German mathematician and shown to be utterly without foundation. This Hind is the man who was recently appointed to the control of the English Nautical Almanac, in opposition to the rival claims of Adams, whose name is so deservedly celebrated, in connection with the so deservedly celebrated in connection with the scovery of Neptune. Yours, &c. BENJAMIN PIERCE.

Now we are sure that we but anticipate the opinion of every terrified old woman and child in the country when we say that this letter is painfully unsatisfactory. It settles next to nothing. If the e told, the Profes estion. He says, indeed, that neither Babinet any body else of equal position "can have predicted in June any such collision," but, be it observed by the panic-stricken, he says nothing about Mag or July, when "any such collision" would certainly be just as awful and destructive as "in June." What particular difference does the "learned Perprofessor of Mathematics" fancy it makes with excellent but horrified people whom his letter is designed to quiet whether our planet is to be knocked into a cocked hat by a comet in June or some other month? Does he think anybody will be simple enough to thank him for granting the earth a reprieve from total destruction for a miserable month or so? Such heartless and unwarrantable triffing with the public apprehensions is worthy of the severest rebuke. A man of Professor Pierce's "scientific position" onght to have been above quibbling on ench a topic. It is positively cruel.

But nnfortunately this is not the worst of it, There is too much reason to believe that the Professor's lamentable evasion is owing to his own particination in the popular apprehension of the collision which he attempts to langh at. He is at heart afraid We are sorry to think this, but we can't help it. If he really believes that there is no danger at all, why doesn't he say so in plain terms? Why, when the editor of the Advertiser gravely solicited his opinion in order to silence the superstitious scruples of the New Englanders, did he undertake to dodge the point by saying that there would be no collision "in June," and by adding that be was positive there were "not the data for such a computation?" And why, after shuffling around and slurring over the main point in this 'way, did he fly off into a gratuitous sneer at Professor Hind, the great English astronomer, as if to appease his own misgivings by recalling the fallibility of the craft?
Why, if it were not for this very reason? The conclusion to our minds is inevitable that the eminent Professor is awfully seared at the prospect of a collision either some time before or after "June," and that his letter to the Advertiser is nothing more than a sort of desperate whistling to keep up his cour-

If it is, it may possibly answer the purpose in his own case, but hardly in that of the credulous and fanatical people to whom it is addressed. If the judgments of the New Englanders are not sharp enough

KANSAS.-The free State men in Kansas, although they claim to be a very large majority and are we suppose a majority, have decided to take no part in the election of delegates to the convention to form a State constitution, but to let the election go by default. Of course the consequence must be that the convention will consist exclusively of delegates are in progress. in favor of a constitution authorizing slavery, and that such a constitution will be framed and submit ted to Congress for ratification, ...

The reason assigned by the free State men for no participating in the election of delegates is that they know they would not have fair play that the offe cers to superintend the elections are generally or universally pro-slavery men and would bring at out or at least countenance enough ruffianism and swind-Cambridge, and to publish the Professor's reply, we ling to secure a nominal pro-slavery triumph in spite of numbers. "Undoubtedly the free State men have a legal right to stay away from the polls if they choose, and to do so under any pretext, but, if they stay away merely on account of an alleged apprehension of what their opponents might do, they have no shadow of right or reason to think that their remaining at home will tend in the slightest degree to vitiate the result in the estimation either of Congress or of the people of the United States Under such circumstances, it will be perfectly absurd on their part to object to the institution of slave ry in Kansas

It soems to us, that, if the Freesoil leaders in Kansas were honest in their views and professions they would, especially as they claim a large majority of the popular strength, go to the polls and take their followers with them at the election of delegates and do everything in their power to secure the free State constitution which they say they so ardently desire. Then they might, if their opponents should carry the day by rnffianism and swindling, make proof of the outrages and appeal to Congress for justice. But, if they choose to succumb in advance and not to lift a finger against the framing of a slave constitution, they may well be ashamed to open their mouths upon the subject hereafter or to make any appeal either to Congress or to the nation.

New York Ledger.-During a recent visit to New York, we called two or three times at the office of the Ledger and had an opportunity of inspecting the books of that wonderfully successful paper. What we said when we spoke of it some weeks ago was far beneath its present mark. Its circulation at sand-probably one hundred and fifty thousand over that of any other paper in America. We hear that there is a weekly in London whose circulation is equal if not superior to that of the Ledger, but it is sold so cheap that its profits cannot be a fourth part as much as those of the latter periodical.

Mr. Robert Bonner, the sole editor and proprietor of the Ledger, has won his extraordinary success by his singular knowledge of public taste and by the extraordinary tact, talent, and enterprise that he invariably exhibits in ministering to it. He never fails to fulfil the expectations of his myriads of readers. His Ledger has a more popular corps of writers than any other paper. That his vast circulation is substantial and healthful is shown by the fact that it has for months been not only rapidly but steadily. and regularly increasing in all the thousand cities of our Republic. Other Eastern editors, beholding his triumph, have tried to imitate him, but they have found him inimitable.

Among the regular contributors to the Ledger are Fanny Fern, Mrs. Southworth, Mrs. Caroline Ingraham, Emerson Bennett, Mrs. Vaughan, Alice Carev Sylvanus Cobb, Mary Stanley Gibson, Emma Alice Browne, and Oliver Sinclair, and there are very many others. Miss Emma Alice Browne, whose genius is familiar to our readers, has contributed several exquisite gems to the Ledger both in poetry and prose.

The time of the Kenton Circuit Court has been occupied the present week in hearing argument in the case of the Kentncky Trust Co. Bank vs. The Sc. vings Bank of Cincinnati. The question that has been argued so far, is, whether a mortgage made by B. F. Sanford in favor of the Savings Bank for $151,000, should be set aside, having been made without consideration, and at a time when he was otherwise greatly indebted, and, in fact, to himself, he being at that period a stockholder in the Savings Bank. The mortgage was made upon the day of the failure of the Bank.

It is the opinion of the best informed citizens of Indiana that Gov. Willard will very soon call an to see through it, their fears underbiedly are. It extra session of the Legislature of that State.

Ita Crescent, Minnesory .- The new town of less the illustrious Professor comes out more explicitly, and negatives the appalling presumption that his letter suggests, we shall confidently look for a sudden and unprecedented panic in the storied land of La Crosse, in Wisconsin, which is the terminus on witcheraft and wooden-nutmegs. We shell await the Mississippi river of the rail road from Milwaukee our next advices from New England with e-pecial to Minnesotal for railroad purposed makes La Cres cent the Eastern terminus to which converges the whole ay stem of railroads provided for in dinnesota. Located at the mouth of Root river, the only point for one hundred and fifty miles either up or flown the Mississippi from which a railroad can be conveniently constructed to the interior of the new State of Minnesota, and directly upon the route of the great Central Pacific Railroad it must rapidly become a city of very extensive commercial import-ince, and strendy, its growth comises, to actonish rapidity with which rich and populous citled have sprung up in the Western country.

This site possesses extraording advantage addition to the rafterness of the rafterness of mentioned, it commands a vas extent of the most productive country in the West rapidly illing up with an industrious population and it has the best harbor to be found for hundred; of miles in either direction on the river. It will attract to it immediately ately an immense concourse of cettlers and will soon ecome one of the leading emporisms of the great orthwest for mineral and agricultural productions, The site of the town is owned by a company of enterprising gentlemen, many of whom are Kentuckians, who have been offered several hundred per cent above the original cost for their shares in the growing city. This company have obtained the ferry privileges between La Crosse and La Crescent and have now two steam ferry-boats actively engaged in the transportation of immigrants. The value of the ferry alone is estimated at $200,000. From the superior natural advantages and the singular concentration of extensive systems of railroads East and West at that point, we cannot doubt that La Crescent will rapidly rise to importance in wealth and population. Capitalists are already attracted to it in large numbers, and extensive improvements

NEW YORK AND ERIE RAILBOAD. A new og ganization of the management of this great thoroughfare of trade and travel will go into operation during the present week. Mr. McCallum; who he for three years past been superintendent of the road. is about to resign that position and to devote his energies to the completion of some extensive bridge contracts. Hereafter the road is to be operated in two divisions; the eastern division, comprising what is now known as the railroad and the eastern and Delaware divisions, is to be under the charge of Mr. Hugh Riddle, and the western division under that of Mr. J. A. Hart.

The duties of general superintendent are to b performed by the president. It is fortunate for the company and for the traveling public that these arduous duties will devolve upon Mr. Homer Ramsdell, of Newburgh, the present able and efficient president of the company. He has been for thir-teen years a director of the company, and for four years its president. Possessing great experience and energy, extraordinary executive skill, and his management the road will soon become equal in every respect to the most sanguine wishes of its friends and patrons.

A body of deserters from Walker's army in Capt. Haines and lady. Nicaragua have published in the Costa Rican Aloum Semanal a long address to the soldiers remaining with Walker, urging them likewise to desert the General. These men have doubtless suffered many and great privations, liut this address is no sufficient apology for their conduct, which is neither brave nor magnanimous. They went to Nicaragua to participate in the revolution, and to sustain the government established by Walker and his coadjutors. If Walker is the thankless, unfeeling, cruel, and inefeasily have been deposed from his command and a more able and humane leader could be chosen. The address is a poor attempt to justify their desertion cious habits of the soldiery as the inefliciency of the STEAMBOAT EXPLOSION.-It will be seen from a dispatch that there has been a steamhoat explosion in the Mississippi, which was attended with the loss of many lives. The Forest Rose, the boat on which the explosion took place, was a stern-wheeler, and formerly belonged to Pittsburg. We do not know what trade she was engaged in.

Prince Michael Hilkoff, of the Russian court, ccompanied by one of the Governors of the Russian empire, passed through New York on Saturday, on his way to Washington. He was victimized by one of the logus ticket offices, and, on complaining to the police, the swindler was arrested and obliged to

There was lately a violent gunpowder explosion in St. Louis. One of the papers of that city ing appointed to obtain the stock: Mesers. J. K. says that the explosion was "sudden." Among the improvements in a new Presbyterian church dedicated in New York city on Sunday last, is a telegraph from the pulpit to the door, so that the minister can communicate with the sexton whenever he desires to do so.

The Boone County (Ind.) Pioneer gives an account of a party of men, with their faces blackened, breaking into an Irish groggery at night, and, after inaltreating the proprietor, they destroyed all his liquor and broke his furniture.

Perhaps that depends on whether John Smith's dealings are with Peter Jones.

They parted company below the tow-head, the Mariner going np and the Ford down the river.

Miller and Mr. Smith, the clerk, are proverhial for their courtesy and attention to passengers.

For Passengers .- The Northerner, Capt. J. F. Smith commander, and Mr. J. B. A. Archer clerk, will leave for Memphis this evening. The Northerner is an elegant boat, runs well, and furnishes splendid accommodations. The Glendale, one of the fastest of the Cincinnati boats, started out of Memphis an hour ahead of the N., fully prepared to beat her, but before the G. reached Hickman, the Northerner overtook and passed her. .

We have the particulars of the sinking of the teamer White Bluff. 'It occurred about 10 o'clock on Friday night, one mile above Cairo, by coming in collision with the towboat Geo. Albree. The White Bluff was owned by Rapley, Hauger & Co., of Little Rock, and was valued at $8,000. She was not insured. Her cargo was, however, fully insured. The Albree struck the Bluff forward of her boilers unning her under. The two boats, thus clinched, tarted for the Kentucky shore, when the cabin of be Bluff broke loose from her holl, and she went own in twelve feet water. The passengers sprang to the Albree, losing all their baggage. A negre ound judgement, there can be no doubt that under threman on the Bluff was the only person drowned The boat and cargo, it is thought, will prove a total lose. F. Bigelow will lose by this disaster about $1,000. The passengers of the Bluff were I. C. Krebs and lady, A. H. Cline, Mrs. E. Bogen, and

> The St. Louis boats continue to be crowded with emigrants for the West. The Martha Putnam, a very fine new sternwheeler, was at the wharf last evening. She was loaded to the guards, and both her cabin and deck were crowded with families.

> The Cincinnati papers speak of the great scarcity of St. Louis pilots. Boats have been compelled to lie there for twenty-four hours for want of pilots, and $400 was freely given for the trip round.

Capt. Able has contracted at Madison for the icient leader that they represent him to be, he could and cabin of a boat to carry 700 tons, for the St. Louis and Nebraska trade.

THE TRADE OF NEW ALBANY .- We are gratified to hear of the energetic measures being taken in onr of a cause made desperate as much through the viof her trade. Beautifully located, accessible to a wide extent of populous and fertile land, and surrounded by every possible advantage, there is no reason why she should not become one of the leading cities of the West.

There was a public meeting held on Monday night, at which a very determined spirit of go-aheadative ness was manifested. With the greatest propriety, and much foresight, the meeting resolved that the erection of manufacturing establishments was the surest method of increasing the prosperity of the city. It was resolved to create a fund of $50,000 to be loaned at six per cent. per annunm to persons who may wish to engage in manufactures, and the institution of a Savings Bank, where operatives boys and girls, and all others, may make deposite in sums no matter how small. Several gentlemen immediately subscribed $1,000 each, and the follow

Shipman, John B. Ford, Robert Jennings, D. C. Axeline, Daniel Hipple, Wm. Keller, H. N. Devol, David R. Scott, and James Pierce.

A committee was also appointed to superintend the publication of a pamphlet setting forth the position of New Albany, and the advantages she presents as a point for manufacturing.

On Saturday night another tragedy was enacted in the lower portion of Philadelphia, -the participants being of a notoriously bad character. The victim was a rowdy and thief named Wm. Kelley, alias "York Bill," who has figured q ite extensively as a ballot-box stuffer in the contested election case, the perpetrator, a United States marine, and the cause an infamous woman, the mistress of the one and the wife of the other.

The wife of Riley, the marine, had cruelly desert ed him a year before, at the instance of Kelley. Heuce the murder.

The will of Dr. Kane has been recorded at the ffice of the Register of Wills in Philadelphia. Dr. Elisha Kent Kane bequeaths the sum of $5,000 to his brother, Robert P. Kane hall (whether to take effect during his life time or fter-his decease) limit and appoint; in default of such directions, the income from the estate to go to his father, and after, his decease to his mother, and after the decease of both to his sisters and brothers.

FROM FLORIDA .- We have in the Tampa Peninsular the particulars of several skirmishes between the United States troops and the Indians. Lientenant Freeman had his right arm broken and his nose skinned by a ball." Four of his men were killed, five were wounded, and four boys were missing. Gen. Harney was about taking the field in person, with a considerable force.

STABBING AFFRAY.—Capt. Key, who came a passenger on the Northerner from Meriwether's Landing in Tennessee, says that just before he departed a young Mr. Meriwether, formerly of this county, was everely stabled in an affray with a man named Watson. Had it not been for the inter-terence of Capt. Key, Meriwether would have been instantly killed:

First Lieutenant Edward D. Stockton, 1st Infantry, died at San Antonio, Texas, March 13, 1857. clear Nicaragua of its invaders, and establish his foreign relations upon a clear and permanent basis. Letters to the same date have been received from Major. Wm. K. Rodgers, who was supposed to have been lost at sea on his way up from Panama to San Juan del Sur. He arrived there after an exhausting passage of twenty-five days along the unfriendly shore of Costa Rica. From these we learn that the health of General Walker's men was never so good as it is now. Major Rodgers states that a rumor prevailed in Rivas that Gen. Ganas, the Costa Rican commander, with the allied troops before Rivas, was under arrest by order of his brother generals, because of a supposed wish on his part to see and treat with Walker.

On the 4th instant Gen. Walker issued a decree modifying his former one in relation to sales of confiscated property.

AMERICAN MARBLE FOR THE EUROPEAN MAR-EETS .- Those feeling an interest in American productions will be pleased to learn that New England is furnishing an ornamental marble of sufficient merit to attract the attention of Enropean dealers in the article. The Verd Antique Marble Company, working the quarries at Roxbury, Vermont, have recently shipped several blocks on orders to France, and have within a few days received an order from one of the most prominent dealers in London for a quantity in the rough block. In both England and France it is said to be superior to the Italian veined marbles now used, and must hereafter, to a large extent, supply their places. This we believe to be the first instance where marble has been exported to Europe on the order of a European manufacturer, our marbles having been considered inferior to the Italian article

CASS, HULSEMANN, AND A NEGRO GIRL.-Our new and venerable Secretary of State has comvacaced his diplomatic difficulties with a correspondence with the Chevalier Hulsemann. The Chevalier had some dispute with the master of a negro woman that he had hired as a servant, and the master meeting her in the street told her to go home to his house. The woman did so, and the Chevalier has invoked the interposition of the State Department to defend his right as Minister Plenipotentiary of Austria against interference with his servants. In the correspondence with Secretary Cass, the nature of the patriarchal institution is a subject of dis-

The intelligence from the British West Indics is interesting. Iu Jamaica, the agitation against the Cuban slave-trade is kept up vigorously, and public meetings had been held to petition the home government to interfere in the matter. In Barbadoes, the Legislature had favorably entertained a project for a telegraph through the Lesser Antilles, connecting the North and South American continents, and had declared its readiness to guarantee the necessery privileges and its share of a general contribution toward the enterprise.

FIRE IN CHAPLIN, KY .- A correspondent writes us that the dwelling of T. K. Marshall, his storehonse, kitchen, meat-house, ice-house, barn, and corn-crib were entirely consumed by fire on the morning of the 30th ult. All of his corn and hay and part of his goods were burned. Loss not less then $1,000; no insurance.

THE NEWFOUNDLAND FISHERIES.—The Baltimore American says that there appears to be reason to apprehend that our own government may become entaugled in the affair of the Newfoundland fisheries. The cessions made to France by the convention which now causes so much excitement in the British province principally interested are certainly very liberal. In this the colonists seem to have just cause of alarm, particularly as they are not supposed to share in the reciprocal advantages acquired by the mother country on the other side of the water. France has long had an eye to these fisheries, and it is not unreasonable to conjecture that the Emperor secs more in the acquisition of the privileges now obtained than the comparatively insignificant profits to his people to be thus derived. To build up a navy of hardy scamen was ever a favorite project of bis great uncle; to do the same thing is even more the policy of the present Emperor. This can be done in no way so admirably as by acquiring these very privileges and thus giving to France an extended system of practical apprenticeship. This, however, does not appear to alarm England in the least: so she barters away, without so much as "by your leave," what her Newfoundland dependency evidently thinks vital to her interests. This of course rouses the colonists, and the consequences are the recent indignation meetings.

Among the speeches made at the meeting in St. John was one by Hon. John Fox, containing a passage to which we invite attention, as illustrating not only the earnestness of the pressure from England. and the boldness of the resistance from the colony. but matters, as we have intimated, in which our own government may yet find itself involved:

government may yet find itself involved:

Nowithstanding the threats held out to us by Mr. Laisouchare's dispatch that if we do not railfy the terms of that Convention it may be worse for us, we shall not only reject like Convention, but, I am satisfied, you will resolve upon petitioning the Imperial Parliament also to reject it.
We will tell Mr. Labouchere that we reject the Convention, and that we defy his insulting threats. The fishcries of this Colony are the hirthright of her people, and I believe they would sooner renounce their allegiance to England than permit such a spolistion of her rights. Fortunately for us, the Rechprocity Treaty with the U. State has preceded this convention; and will, I believe, prove our calvation, for the Americans have acquired rights under that tresty, which they will not allow France, or any other power, to interfere with, and I do believe that next summer we shall have American war steamers on the Newfoundiand and Labrador coasts, to protect their rights and ours also if uccessary.

ANOTHER POINT SETTLED .- The question has been mooted, whether foreign goods or merchandize, in transit through the country to an interior port on the 1st of July next, would be considered "in public store" and entitled to entry at the reduced rate of the new tariff. This has been decided in the affirmative by the Secretary of the Treasury, as will be seen from the following copy of the official instructions to the Collector of New York:

THEASURY DEPARTMENT, March 26, 1857. Sin:- l am in receipt of your letter of the 25th in. stant, asking whether merchandize in transit in bond to an interior port, but which may not arrive at the port of destination until after the 1st of July next, can be considered as in public store, or bond-ed warehouse, within the meaning of the act of 3d instant, and the instructions of this Department of instant, and the instructions of this Department of 17th instant, and in reply have to state that merchandize so situated, being in the custody of the Government, may be considered as in bondded warehouse, and should it so remain, and not arrive at its port of destination until after the 1st of July next, it would be liable only to the reduced rate Very respectfully,
HOWELL COBB,
Secretary of the Treasury.

J. Redfield, Esq., Collector of Customs, New York.

Our letter from New Orleans will be found nusually interesting.

The foreign correspondent of the New York Journal of Commerce thus describes the Turcoman horses offered by the Shah of Persia to the French

The Emperor went down to the court-yard, where the noble animals, with Persian housings, were attended by Persian grooms. The horses are taller than the Arabian breed; they have no mane—nature grants them so little for ornament that their owners deprive them of it altogether. Napoleon Louis, an adept, expressed a lively satisfaction. Another eminent judge of horse-flesh describes them through nearly two columns of the Constitutionnel as far superior to the barbs in the best qualities, as in beau-ty; sixty stallions of the same high pedigree would prove a fortune for the French races. The Shah perprove a fortune for the French races. The Shah per-sonally selected the present samples; and his stud-near Teherau consists of thousands set apart in the north for his stables.

OUTRAGES OF BRIGHAM YOUNG. - A COPPESPOR dent of the San Francisco Herald, writing from Salt Lake City, on the 7th of January, says:

I have to chronicle one of the most daring and in-sulting national crimes ever committed in the United States, and that, too, under the direct care and con-trol, and under the immediate order and direction of this man Young. Early in January, and just in advance of the meeting of the Supreme Court, a party of the Mormons in high standing in the party of the Mormons in high standing in the Church, and under the advice of Brigham Young, repaired to the office of Hon. G. P. Stiles, one of the United States District Judges, the law office of T. S. Williams, Esq., and the office of the Clerk of the Supreme Court, and took therefrom all the papers belonging to the Supreme Court, consisting of records, dockets, opinions filed away, together with nine hundred volumes of the Iaws, furnished by the Federal Government for the use of the Territory of Utah. The reason given for this treasouous act was that Congress would not allow the Federal officers to remain in the Territory; and that what officers were now in the Territory must leave as soon as grass now in the Territory must leave as soon as grass grows or he will send them to hell across lots. Now, sir, can you find a parallel to this act of treason since the organization of the American Colonies? if so, please note the time and place.

It seems to be a settled fact that the laws of Congress cannot be carried out or put in force in this Territory—the only law known or obeyed is the law of the Church, and that is the will of Brigham Young, who most clearly is the most brutal tyrant now on earth, and, in point of treasonous designs, without an equal. Often have the courts decided against the enactments of the Ulah statutes, but all in vain. The Mornons go on after their own order of doing business, wholly disregarding and setting at defiance the opinions and decisions of the Supreme Court of the Territory, and openly declare that they will not obey nor be governed by any one unless he is a Mormon, and that any one who thinks otherwise can lose his life by trying the experiment, which most complatically will be the case unless a strong military aid is given by the United States Government. In vain may one try for justice where the mandate of one man is the supreme law of the land, when you have Mormon jurors, witnesses, officers, &c., all bound by a secret oath of hostility not only to all the laws of Congress, but toward all the officers of the United States Government, from President down to that of Marshal of the Territory of

At this time, sir, there are five young men lingering out a weary life of unisery and wretchedness, groaning beneath heavy loads of iron, in the damp and dismal cells of the Utah penitentiary, for no crime known to the laws other than expressing opinions of disapprobation of the doctrines of Mormonism, which here is the blackest crime a man can contain the investment of sample that these young. ism, which here is the blackest crime a man can commit. It is worthy of remark that these young men are not Mormons, but were passing, on their way to California, from Missouri. Poor fellows! they are doomed to a sickly and torturing death, and that soon, for it is not possible to survive such brutal treatment very long. Quite recently a young man by the name of Lewis was convicted of assault and battery, and sentenced to five years' imprisonment in the penitentiary; and while on their way to prison a band of ruffians took him away from the prison a band of ruffins took him away from the officer and deprived him of his —, and then put him into prison to die. These things are too common to endured much longer; and unless the Federal Government speedily lends aid unto her officers now in this territory, the miserable ends of both Mormons and officers of the Government can be better actionated that the ter anticipated than told.

> [Correspondence of the Louisville Builetin.] NEW ORLEANS, March 25, 1857.

The heaviest portion of the season's business is now over. The crop of sugar is pretty well disposed of. Cotton is still coming in, but only in small lots, and the bulk is now in second and third hands. The receipts of Western produce are also fulling off. The hardware and dry goods men are still busy with some Texas and Arkansas dealers, but stocks are now exceedingly reduced, and purchasers and purchases are daily becoming fewer and lighter. More persons are leaving the city than chasers and purchases are daily becoming fewer and lighter. More persons are leaving the city than coming to it. Some handsome fortunes have been made here this year, particularly in the cotton factorage business. Several houses will realize in clear gain over $150,000 each. The past winter has been agreeable, and, as a general thing, strangers have been pleased with their visit, though many of those who stopped at the St. Charles went away with bitter complaints of exhorbitant charges, miserable ter complaints of exhorbitant charges, miserable fare, and poor attendance. This hotel, it must be regretted, has not been conducted in a manner to improve its reputation, and the complaints made have, in most instances, been too well founded—the table and attendance on the ladies' side of the house have been miserable.

Reports from the country show that the recent cold weather has throughout the State retarded the growing crops two or three weeks at least, though no material injury, it is believed, has been done except to the fruit, much of which in some localities is completely destroyed.

Some decided movements have recently taken place in the affairs of the Texas Pacific Railroad. place in the affairs of the Texas Pacific Railroad. One or two meetings of parties interested have been held; the domicil of the controling board has been changed to this city, and new subscription lists have been opened. Public attention has been called to the road, its progress, prospects, and the immense grants of valuable land made to it by the State of Texas. Two editorials have appeared in the Picayune in relation to it, but the subject has not yet by any means been handled in a manner due to its merits. The whole South is deeply interested in the subject has not yet by the subject has not yet by any means been handled in a manner due to its merits. its success; and it is to be earnestly hoped that those to whom the execution of the mighty work shall be entrusted will be equal to their duties and not swayed by personal speculation.

Mr. George Peabody, the great banker, leaves here to-day. It is rumored that a deputation of prominent Mississippians called upon him a few days ago, and that during the interview he had occasion to speak of the financial affairs of Mississippi with reference to the unpaid bonds, and did speak with reference to the unpaid bonds, and did speal of them with extreme severity against the State, but with regret and mortification. A large portion of those bonds, it is well known, are held in England, and the rebuke must have been keenly felt coming as it does from such a source and at such a time too when English capital is sought to assist in building the railroads through that State. Missis-sippi is abundantly able to pay her indebtedness, and it seems strange indeed that she still repudiates.

The Tribune says: "We learn that a wealthy gentleman of this vicinity has just given to four of the prominent painters of the city commissions of unusual magnitude. The artists in question are Messrs. Huntington, Ilicks, Rossiter, and Baker. Each is to paint a picture fifteen feet by nine, grouping from twenty to thirty distinguished living personages of this country. Thus Mr. Huntington is to paint the eminent merchants; the picture of Mr. Hicks will represent men and women who have become famous in American literature; that of Mr. Rossiter will give the portraits of scientific men; and that of Mr. Baker, of artists. These interesting works are to be commenced immediately."

[Correspondence of the Journal of Comm GENOA, ITALY, March 2, 1857.

The Susquehannah arrived in Genoa three days since, after a month's absence at Naples and Palermon. Though the fears of revolution and anarchy which induced Mr. Owen to desire her presence there have not been reslized, wet the anxieties of many American families were quieted by the sight of the stars and stripps in Sicily. The state of things there is in some respects worse than the public rumors represent them. The opposition to the King is more deep-rooted and deadly, and it would not surprise me to hear of an uprising there like that of Vesuvius itself, where the very world seems to be falling to pieces. falling to pieces.

There is now no doubt that both the fort and the war-steamer were blown up by design, and were intended as mere diversions of the minds of the police from other great plans of ruin which have since been discovered. All the great castles had been undermined, and were almost ready for an explosion. A mine had been prepared for the Royal Palace, and the plan formed for springing it during the great ball, by which the King and the nobles might be involved in indiscriminate ruin. The design was discovered in indiscriminate ruin. covered, the invitations recalled, and the King and his family immediately hnried to Caseria, where, as you know, he is living in constant apprehensions of his life, a spectacle of pity and of cursing to the

These facts of mining the castles and the palace I would not report, had they not been communicated by those who are worthy of confidence. They reveal a state of desperation which will, before long, produce decided, if not awful, results. As to the future of the kingdom, whether Bomba lives, or resigns, or is killed, who is wise enough to predict? There are evidently three distinct parties among the enemies of the King—Republicans, Murat men, and those who desire a Constitutional monarchy, like that of Sardinia. The relative position of these parties, I cannot state. But while they are thus divided, the friends of absloutism, nobles and priests, and the beggars, must have their own way—and the successor of Bomba, whenever he comes, will do as all have done hitherto—make the people his dup2s, and foment their divisons, and seat himself more These facts of mining the castles and the palace and foment their divisons, and seat himself more firmly on the throne of power. Perhaps, however, he will come, whose right it is to reigu, and then Naples and Sicily will be free.

SEA-ELEPHANTS AT ST. HELENA .- I will now attempt to give a description of the sea-elephant, an animal of which the public in general have a very imperfect idea. The male of this species has a cartilaginous substance projecting from the nose, six or seven inches in length; and from this peculiarity has the animal derived its name, as its purpose seems to be similar to that of an elephant's proboscis. I have seen the sea-elephant more than twenty-five feet in length, and measuring about twenty-six feet round the body; whereas the female is never half that size, and in form resembles the hair-seal, which does not materially differ from the fur animal in shape, &c. The male sea-elephant comes on shore the latter end of August, the females late in September, or about the first of October.

When the males first come on shore, they are so excessively fat, that I have seen two from which might be produced a ton of oil, but after a residence of three provides. night be produced a ton of oil, but after a residence of three months on the land without food they become, as might be expected, very lean and emaciated. About the middle of December, their young being old enough to take the water, the whole breeding herd leave the shore, to follow where instinct leads among the hidden recesses of the deep. About the first of January, the brood of the previous year come on shore to renew their coats, and in the middle of February the full-grown males and females do the same; and by the first of May they have all disappeared, both old and young. From the fact of these animals living so long on shore without food, I should infer that they can derive sustenance by absorption during this period—consuming the substance of their own bodies. Hence their extreme emaciation at the time they return to the ocean. There is a striking contrast between their clumsy, sluggish motions on land and their agility and sagasluggish motions on land and their agility and saga

Unlike the fur-seal, the sea-elephant seldom runs or fights; but when the club is aimed at his skull, or the lance at his heart, he merely raises a supplica-ting look at his murderer, while the tears overflow from his eyes, and then awaits the death-stroke with martyr-like composure. But were he conscious of from his eyes, and then awaits the death-stroke with martyr-like composure. But were he conscious of his own powers, or were his courage equal to them, his assailants would probably get the worst of the bargain. Unwieldy as his form appears, should he rush forward and compel his enemy to come to close quarters, human skill could avail little against the astonishing power of his jaws, which in the agonies of death will literally grind the hardest stones to powder between his teeth. It is a remarkable fact that the sea-elephant has never been seen in the water by any navigator more than thirty rods from the shore. I have seen them come up and take breath within half a cable's length of the beach; but even then they only allowed about half an inch of their nosc to come above water.—Captain Webster.

INTERIOR DEPARTMENT - The Cultivation of Flag in Ohio.—Mr. Jonah Woodward, of North Jackson, Mahoning county, Ohio, furnishes to the Countissioner of Patents an interesting description of the sioner of Patents an interesting description of the cultivation of flax in that State. He remarks that three pecks of seed is sown to the acre, which yields from six to twelve bushels of flax, the price of which per bushel is $2 25. From one to two tons of flax straw are to be obtained from each acre, the price of which per ton is $3 50 to $7 according the price of which per to quality. This straw is manufactured into tow for the rope works and paper mills of the Eastern cities. Mr. W. had received from a California friend some Calfornia flax-seed, which he believes to be superior to the varieties which he has here tofore cultivated.

The Cultivation of the Sweet Potato in Ohio. - The Commissioner of Patents has received an interesting letter on this subject from Mr. Bywick, of Newark, Licking county, Ohic, in which he states that in the spring of 1847 he bought a peck of sweet potatoes of a peddler from Muskingum Valley. From this of a peddler from Muskingum Valley. From this quantity the first successful attempt was made to cultivate the sweet potato in Licking county. Mr. R. sold the the following spring seventy-five cents worth of plants, and had a good yield of potatoes in the spring, the proceeds from the sale of which assisted him materially in building a house.

The next spring he sold his neighbors about $20 worth of plants, in 1840 he sold over $100 worth, and in 1855 sold $897 worth, one-half of which sum was paid by the citizens of Licking county, and the other half by those of adjoining counties, especially north of Licking, and as far as Cleveland, Norwalk, and Sandusky city. From the above data he was and Sandusky city. From the above data he was enabled to give an estimate of how many bushels of enabled to give an estimate of how many bushels of sweet potatoes were grown in Licking county in 1855. The number of plants he stated at 414,000, which, at one bushel for every 100 plants, would yield about 4,140 bushels; but at the usual rate of estimating the product, or at three bushels for every 100 plants, the yield would be 12,420 bushels.

He resided in a village named Faaberg, in the island of Fionia. A few weeks since they had a violent quarrel upon the subject, and in the dead of night he aroused his wife, and to her surprise she saw that he had a torch in one hand and a poignard in the other. He said that an angel had appeared to him, and had charged him in the name of God to convert her to the faith of the Mormous. The young woman said that she would sooner die than change her religion, where the project of the more her points in final impeniture! would sooner die than change her religion, whereupon he cried: "Then perish in final impenitence!"

AGE AND DEBILITY.—As old age comes creeping on, it brings with it many attendant infirmities. Loss of appetite and weakness impair the health, and want of activity makes the mind discontented and unhappy. In cases where old age adds its influence, it is almost impossible to add vigor and health. health, and although many remedies have been tried, all have failed, until Burnaye's Holland Bir-TERS were known and used. In every case where they have been employed, they have invariably n strength and restored the appetite. They become a great agent for this alone, and are used by many people who are suffering from loss of appetite and general debility. In cases of long standing chronic diseases, they act as a charm, invigorating the system, thus giving nature another opportunity to repair physical injuries. The new wooden bridge over the Kentucky river at Frankfort, built by the Louisville and Frankfort Railroad Company, in place of the old wire suspension bridge, is now almost entirely completed and seems fully to answer the purposes of construction. The editor of the Frankfort Yeoman saw a heavily loaded freight train pass over it yesterday, with one of the largest locomotives and a train of burden cars extending across its whole length, without seeming to produce the slightest oscillation or movement in its timbers. It was planned by Sam. Gill, Esq., the skillful and accomplished engineer who is now superintendent of the road.

The Rev. John A. McClung, of St. Paul, Minnesota, has been unanimously elected pastor of the Presbyterian church of Maysville. Mr. McClung held the same position several years ago.

EVENING BULLETIN.

Next Monday, April 6th, the annual township elections occur throughout Indiana.

INTERESTING DECISION .- The New Albany Ledger reports the following:

PLANK ROAD DECISION.—A Mr. Dean, who lives on the Corydou plank road, refused some time ago to pay toll on said road. The Secretary of the Company directed the gate-keeper to shut the gate and not allow him to pass without paying. This was done, and Mr. Dean brought suit against the company for damages, alleging as a reason for refusing to pay tell, that the road was not kept in good order. The case was tried, and judgment was given against the company for $5 damages. This is a rather sincular decision, and an appeal has been taken to a higher court.

A letter from New York says:

The trial of the alleged murderers of Dr. Burdell' having been definitely fixed for the third week of April, the public interest in that mysterious oase shows symptoms of revival. Appeals are plenty in the newspapers on behalf of the children of Mrs. Cunningham, especially the two little boys, and everybody is on the qui vice for the auction sale of the furniture at 31 Bond street, on Monday next.

It having been repeatedly asked how independent suffrage can be exercised, if the laws of the territory are to be regarded as valid? the reply, from the best sources of information, is that the law providing for the election is a fair one, explicitly declaring that all free white citizens of the United States over twenty-one years of age, resident in the territory on the first of April, shall be entitled to vote for delegates to the constitutional convention.
